HSS-Stavros Niarchos Foundation Academic Visitor Program

HSS-Stavros Niarchos Foundation Academic Visitor Program

The HSS-Stavros Niarchos Foundation Academic Visitor Program is designed for orthopaedic surgeons from Greece to observe surgical and clinical care; to be exposed to best practices in orthopaedic surgery; and to experience the culture of excellence at HSS. Twice a year participants are selected for a period of two months: April–May and October–November. HSS covers the cost of airfare and lodging for selected participants. Visitors are responsible for procuring their own visa.

Program Highlights

- Observation in the operating room and outpatient clinic with faculty from the Adult Reconstruction and Joint Replacement Division
- Daily schedule based on observation preferences
- Observation of morning rounds with HSS attending surgeons
- Observation of patient flow and perioperative services
- Attendance at weekly educational conferences
- Access to the HSS medical library system

Available Services

Spring & Fall Symposium

Participants in the Academic Visitor Program are given the opportunity to interact with current leaders in orthopaedics working on cutting edge advancements in arthroplasty. In the Spring, participants attend the Current Concepts in Joint Replacement Symposia, and in the Fall, participants attend the HSS-Stavros Niarchos Foundation Orthopaedic Seminar Program. Additional symposia may be added if applicable to the learning objectives of the current participants.

HSS Journal® Subscription

All alumni of the Academic Visitor Program will be given a one year subscription to the HSS Journal and are welcome to submit their research for review and consideration for inclusion.
